ENGINEER CRAWFORD will arrive in a couple of days and immediately take the field with a corps of assistants. He will run several preliminary lines for the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad through the valley and between this city and Cajon Pass.

One hundred Chinamen will leave San Francisco to-morrow for this city for the purpose of commencing work on the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad. They will be dispensed on the different sections of road where the heaviest grading is required.

The Los Angeles Schoolmaster, the educational weekly which Superintendent LUCKY, aided by the teachers in this and San Bernardino counties, proposes to publish, is receiving unexpected encouragement and will undoubtedly prove a success. The size of the paper will depend on the support it receives. Persons called upon for assistance will remember this.

SENATOR JOHN P. JONES was married on New Year's Day to Miss GEORGIA, eldest daughter of Mr. EUGENE L. SULLIVAN. The ceremony took place in the Church of the Advent, Rev. Mr. LATHROP officiating. On Saturday morning the Senator and his bride left for Virginia City, and from thence they proceeded to Washington. They carry with them the warmest wishes for their happiness of their many friends on the Pacific coast.

Mines and Mining Stocks.

During the year just departed, the stock and mining interests of the Pacific coast were prosperous beyond precedent. The San Francisco Post states that the business of the Stock Exchange of that city in 1874 far exceeded the operations of any previous twelve months, showing an aggregate of recorded sales of $202,930,560, while that of 1873 amounted to but $146,395,068. The mining interest of the Pacific slope for the year just closed also exceeds that of any previous twelve months in point of development and profit. We have not only to record important developments on the great lead of the Comstock, but the discovery and opening of other mines of the most promising character at various points along the vast mineral belts that lie parallel with the Sierra Nevada—mines, some of which promise to materially swell within the near future the great tide of bullion which is already stimulating every branch of industry, however obscure or remote. We enter upon a new year with an outlook to these interests of a most promising character. At no time in our history, has the operator in mines or mining stocks had equal cause for self congratulation in regard to the prospects for the future than he has at the present hour. The whole mining interest of the coast seems to have entered upon a more exciting as well as a more substantial era than ever before. From every quarter comes reports daily of discoveries of the precious metals and other valuable minerals of such a character that we are led to believe that our mining interests are yet only in their infancy, and that the total product for the quarter of a century just ending, although aggregating nearly $1,600,000,000, will compare but insignificantly with that of the same period which is next to succeed. The mines of California and Nevada for the year 1874 aggregate a gross amount of at least $50,000,000. The year 1875 is unquestionably to pass into history as the most remarkable period in our annals of mining products, aggregating, as it probably will, at least $80,000,000.

Eureka.

The patent right for a family fruit dryer has been procured by E. H. Workman and Dr. A. E. Merrill for the county of Los Angeles. Here is something that every family must and will have. We have seen the plates of the dryer and a sample of the fruit and vegetables dried on it, and we pronounce it the best thing we have ever seen for family use. While it is cheap and easy to operate, it will preserve twenty-five to sixty bushels of fruit or vegetables a day. The raisins we have not seen, but they are said to be equal to the raisins made by the Alden process, of which we have no doubt. The principle being the same, the fruit must be equal in every respect. This dryer has the advantage of admitting or cutting off any amount of hot air that the operator wishes, by simply turning a screw. While it is so simple that the women and children on the farm can operate it, it is susceptible of being enlarged to any extent. Thus companies can be formed and a factory put up on a large scale. We had these things with delight. It places the farmer upon an independent footing. His fruit, vegetables and grapes can be prepared at home and stored away until he finds a market to suit. Everything cured in these dryers will keep any length of time, and no fear of worm or mildew. This is one reason why this fruit sells so much higher in market than sun dried fruit—they may be sent around the world a dozen times and will then open as sweet and fresh as the day they came out of the dryer. Another reason is, that fruit, when placed in a basin of water, will reabsorb all its fresh qualities, so that no one can tell but it was just from the tree or garden. Hence we readily see why there is such a demand from the East, and from Europe for the Alden fruit. All the navies and armies of the world want them. The farmers need have no fears of glutting the market. We doubt if the present orders for the Alden fruit could be filled in five years. One word to farmers and gardeners. Plant tomatoes, turnips, peas, squashes, pumpkins, carrots, potatoes, cabbage, indeed all vegetables dried on these machines are in great demand. Two or three acres judiciously planted in vegetables, will make a farmer more clear money than fifty acres in grain. Then this labor is more like recreation than work. We cannot tell now the precise cost of a family machine, the parties have a machine on the road that will soon be here. When this model machine arrives they will publish the cost; but we presume it will be inside of one hundred dollars. This information is a God send to the farmers and just in time. Let them prepare for it. It is hardly necessary to say anything about the profit of drying or preserving fruit in this way. Every few days for months past we have published something on this subject. It is simply enormous—from fifty to three hundred per cent, and this per cent can now be pocketed by the producers. The parties will soon publish their progress and we promise to keep our readers posted.

Important Facts.

MR. F. P. F. TEMPLE and Engineer CRAWFORD were called to San Francisco last week by a telegram from Senator JONES on business connected with the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad. Mr. TEMPLE returned on Sunday morning, and from him we obtain the following information: Senator JONES and other capitalists agree to take three hundred thousand dollars of stock in the road provided the people of Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties will subscribe an equal amount. The road is to be built on the ordinary gauge and will connect with no other road between the point of leaving the water and Independence. The road will probably leave the water at Santa Monica. These are the terms and conditions which we may build a railroad that will make Los Angeles the second city in the State and Los Angeles valley the richest and most desirable spot on the Pacific Coast. It behooves the people of this city and valley to think earnestly and act promptly on the proposition above set forth. There are already about one hundred thousand dollars of the stock subscribed by residents of this city and county, and to meet the terms of the San Francisco capitalists we must find subscribers for two hundred thousand more. These must be found in this and San Bernardino county. Los Angeles city will be greatly benefited by this road, and she must aid in its construction. The company will require the right of way through the city, and will probably ask the corporation to take stock in the road. Both requests should be cheerfully and promptly complied with. The stock in this road will become good property, and the day work on the road is fairly inaugurated. The general advance in property will exceed thirty-three per cent. The route of the road is not fixed nor even agreed upon. It is the purpose of the company to build a railroad from the water to Independence. To the company it is not at all important that their road shall pass through the city of Los Angeles. Unless we make it an object it may be to their interest to leave us a few miles to one side. This is another consideration to which our people should give careful attention. The distance from this city to Independence is set down by Mr. CRAWFORD at 220 miles and he estimates that six hundred thousand dollars will grade the road bed and furnish the ties. This done and the iron may be easily raised by bonding the road. Road or no road now rests with the people of Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties.

The Panamint Mines.

The San Francisco papers note the departure of Mr. TRENOR W. PARK, President of the Panama Railroad, for the Panamint mines. He gives to the Post the following information concerning the shipment of ores via Los Angeles and Panama: Through contracts can be made for ore from Los Angeles to Liverpool at the rate of $4 10 per ton of 2,240 pounds, and if large quantities came forward the rate would be made $4. He says the Surprise valley mines could furnish 300 tons a day at a fortnight's notice, and that the district 1,000 tons, but this cannot be done while the ore has to be hauled from the interior to the sea port. A railroad, broad gauge, from Truxton or Shoo Fly to the mouth of Surprise Cañon can be built and equipped for $2,000,000, and this one traffic, with the accompanying merchandise and passenger business, would make it the best paying road in the United States. A narrow, three foot gauge could be constructed for about $1,200,000. There are other mines of immense value in the lower part of the State, the ore of which can never be worked on the spot for the want of wood and water, and which must lie dormant until there is railroad communication with the ocean. Speaking of the handling of ores from the State, through the distance which ships have to lie from the railroad wharf, he says the inconvenience is not so great as is supposed, and that the total expense is less than the interest on the $2,000,000 it would take to build a wharf to the anchorage. In regard to the cost of sending these ores by steam and rail to England instead of by the cape and sailing vessels, he says the saving of insurance, with the interest, on high grade ores compensate for the difference on freight. These ores when rich in copper will continue to be sent to Swansea, as the copper, which otherwise would be lost, pays the cost of freight and reduction.

The Democratic Leaders and the Louisiana Troubles.—Policy of the Conservatives.

CHICAGO, January 2d.—A Washington special says a New York Conservative now in Washington, who is known to have the confidence of the Democrats in Louisiana, says the Democratic leaders are opposed to any revolutionary move for any purpose. They all encourage the bluff game against the reactionary movement without securing the return of a majority in the House, but threats were made without any intention of executing them. The Democratic leaders will not encourage the revolution for two reasons: First, because they believe that revolutionary movement would prejudice them before the Congressional committee; second, because such movement might result in the re-establishment of a military government. They would have been willing to accept a majority of five for or against them. They believe they can control, by bribery and flattery, a sufficient number of negro votes to give them the preliminary organization of the House. Under the circumstances they will not attempt to install their members by force but by attempting to prevent the return of the colored Republican members from the parishes, and by other means, will endeavor to arrange it so that a sufficient number of colored representatives from the country will be absent when the House is organized, to secure the control of the organization to the Democrats. They will refuse to make appropriations for mileage, per diem or expenses to the officers of the Kellogg State Government, and will thus seek to cripple it. They will also attempt to control two-thirds of the Senate and then impeach both Kellogg and Antoine. Failing to get the necessary two-thirds in the Senate, the Democrats, on the last day of the session, will prefer articles of impeachment simultaneously against Kellogg and Antoine, and suspend them from office. The Democratic Speaker would then become Governor until the Legislature could act on the case. The session of the Legislature, by the Constitution, is limited to sixty days. No extra session could be called except by the acting Governor, who would be the Democratic Speaker, and he, of course, would not call one. Meantime the acting Governor would have the means to make all the appointments which the Constitution and laws give the Governor. He would be able to disintegrate the Republican party by the distribution of numerous valuable offices.

Troops for the Black Hills.

CHEYENNE (Wyo.), January 2d.—A letter just received from the Red Cloud Agency, states that Col. Henry, with a company of the Third Cavalry, left that post on the 27th of December for the eastern slopes of Black Hills, to drive out the invading miners. Col. Henry's command took thirty days' rations and forage, and were prepared to encounter severe weather. The Indians at the agency were demanding that horses, wagons and other property of the Black Hills miners should, when captured, be turned over to them.

The Trouble in New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, January 3d.—Hon. J. H. Oglesby testified before the Congressional Committee that there had been no particular failure financially in Kellogg's Government. The city was never in a better condition than at present. Kellogg assisted the committee in the work of reform. Troops are stationed about the State House. It is reported that the White League will meet to-morrow. Citizens are generally quiet. The committee say that the report of the returning Board cannot stand. Conservative report forty-eight members in caucus to-night; Republicans, forty. A colored man was reported killed, at 9 p. m. He is said to be a member of the Legislature.

Vicksburg Investigation.

VICKSBURG, January 3d.—The Legislative Committee adjourned last night to meet in Jackson to-morrow. It is reported that they have had a witness who charged the ex-county officers with forgery and embezzlement. District Attorney Lee testified to the effect that in the recent disturbance the blacks had no intention of using violence. Half of them were unarmed.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, January 3d.—The Conference Committee on the so-called little tariff bill had another meeting yesterday. They failed to agree on the compromise on the points which divide the two houses. The members of the Ways and Means Committee say it is not probable that the bill will pass.

CHICAGO, January 4th.—A Washington special says that Irwin said to a reporter that he would be ready to appear before the House to-morrow. He intimated that the entire Pacific Mail management of the subsidy would be made known. Irwin said that King had committed perjury. Irwin seems fully determined on his course. Members of the House Committee on Ways and Means say that a criminal prosecution of Irwin is probably barred, so that there is now no hindrance to full disclosures from him.

NEW ORLEANS, January 4.—S. A. M.—At this hour the United States troops are taking a position covering the State House. The Metropolitan police are in position to prevent the near approach to the State House. Any members of the Legislature and State officers are allowed to pass. There are 1,800 U. S. troops in position to sustain the State Government.

ALL A. M.—The negro reported killed last night was only wounded. He was shot by a policeman. All the doors of the State House, except one, are securely barricaded. Both parties are in caucus in the State House. The Republicans claim 50 members, presumably barred, so that there is now no hindrance to full disclosures from him.

Action of Underwriters.

BOSTON, January 2d.—Owing to the frequency of incendiarism, the Fire Underwriters' Union has appointed an officer to investigate the origin of all fires, whether or not claims for losses are made on the companies.

About Lady Franklin.

NEW YORK, January 2d.—Sophia Craycroft, the niece of Lady Franklin, in a letter published here regarding the reward for Lady Franklin of £2,000 for the recovery of documents from her husband's expedition, says that in consideration of the difficulty of providing for the equipment of such an undertaking, her aunt has added the reward of £2,000, on receiving the documents in question, to the offer of the same compensation. The outlay and adjudication of this, as well as the reward itself, is to be made by three persons approved by both parties, of whom two shall be officers of the navy who have had experience in Arctic service, and who must therefore be competent for the duty kindly undertaken by them. "It is right that I should add that the payment of sums to be claimed is made binding upon my aunt's executors in the contingency of her death during the progress of the work."

FOREIGN.

From Over the Water.

MADRID, January 3d.—A deputation headed by the Marquis Molines, the new Minister, has gone to Marseilles to escort King Alfonso to Spain. The municipality of the capital is preparing to give him a splendid reception. BRUSSELS, January 3d.—The report that the King of Belgians had recognized the new party of Spain is premature. He simply telegraphed personal congratulations. PARIS, January 3d.—It is reported that Italy is negotiating with other powers to secure a common course of action in regard to Spain. The German Ambassador says that Germany is prepared to recognize Alfonso as King of Spain. Serrano entered France on Saturday and is reported as going to Paris and thence to Berlin.
